

Xyz.Com Releases Free Home Exchange Audio-Book

International Vacation Home Exchange (IVHE.com) is excited about the release of their free audio- book on home exchange for vacation enthusiasts who want to travel and at the same time want to save money

London, United Kingdom, 21August, 2015: The latest announcement of IVHE about the release of their audio-books has come as a gift for those who love home exchange and at the same time want to save a fortune on travel costs. Following the release of the digital copy of the Home Exchange Guide, they have now come up with an audio-book. You can begin downloading and listen to the audio format to get all relevant information about home exchange and home swapping for vacations.

You will really enjoy the audio-books if you like travelling, and want the comforts of a home away from home at your vacation destination. The audio-book is divided into different chapters and every chapter has all the relevant information to keep the listener engaged and entertained. Some of the hot topics related to home exchange include why you should choose home exchange, are all home exchanges similar, why you should choose a good network for home exchange, how you can get a exchange, plus many more.

Right now you can listen to the first two chapters. They are a good way to learn more about the advantages of home exchange travel. IVHE will be releasing the remaining chapters over the coming weeks so you can enjoy the full book. The author of these audio-books is Larry Klimczyk who is a passionate traveller himself. He has used his wealth of home swap experiences to make these series interesting for listeners.

A travel enthusiast has wonderful experiences to share after listening to the audio-books. Look what he says – “I had a wonderful experience listening to the audio-book on home exchange guide. I must say it is quite educating for those who love adventuring, visiting new destinations and saving a few bucks at the same time”.

About IVHE

International Vacation Home Exchange (IVHE) is a prestigious global company based in London. They are passionate about making home exchange experience best for their clients. They have a dedicated team of professionals who have decades of experiences in the home exchange industry.

Contact Information

URL: <http://www.xyz.com/>

Email: Larry@xyz.com

Phone Number: +1 123 123 1212